Sleek New Wine Bar Opens At Ten Hill Place Hotel

Ten Hill Place Hotel, part of The Royal College of Surgeons of Edinburgh, has extended their hospitality area.

10 Wine Bar, a vibrant and contemporary space on Hill Place, opened its doors in time for the New Year with an extensive list of enticing wines.

In a fitting partnership, Corney and Barrow, one of the longest established independent wine merchants in the UK with a heritage stretching back 230 years, are to provide the unique range of wines, offering benchmark examples of wine varieties, and showcasing the very best offerings from wine regions around the world. For special occasions, 10 Wine Bar will also offer 'The Surgeons' Cellar List', a selection of exclusive wines for the connoisseur.

An inspirational menu, including large sharing plates and tapas, is on offer for guests to enjoy while indulging in the fine wines, making this an ideal place for an after work drink, or quick pre-theatre bite. A large selection of beers and spirits are also available to order.

Commercial Director of The Royal College of Surgeons of Edinburgh, Scott Mitchell, comments on the new venture:

"We are delighted to be opening the doors of 10 Wine Bar to Edinburgh's public. Located just off Nicolson Street, close to the Festival Theatre and a thriving area of restaurants and bars, 10 Wine Bar is bright and spacious and we are looking forward to welcoming patrons for a relaxing glass of wine and delicious food.

"In resonance with The Royal College of Surgeons of Edinburgh, Corney and Barrow are wine merchants with a long heritage, and our partnership with them is designed to offer the very best selection of wines, at good prices."

In the coming months, 10 Wine Bar will be hosting an assortment of events, including wine tasting evenings. For more information and dates of wine tastings please visit the Ten Hill Place Hotel website at www.tenhillplace.com.
